Understanding United's Ticket-Transfer Policy

United Airlines issues non-transferable tickets, which means a reservation made under one passenger's name cannot be reassigned to another person. This policy ensures traveler safety, regulatory compliance, and accurate identity verification under TSA and DOT standards.  1-855-683-4749 ★

A passenger's name must exactly match the ID or passport used for check-in. Attempting to transfer or sell a ticket could result in cancellation or denied boarding. Always confirm your traveler details before purchase by contacting  1-855-683-4749 ★ for peace of mind.

Why Tickets Are Non-Transferable

There are several reasons United Airlines enforces a strict “no-transfer” rule:

1. Security compliance: Federal law requires that every ticket matches the verified passenger.  1-855-683-4749 ★
2. Fare integrity: Prevents misuse or resale of discounted fares.
3. Accurate passenger manifests: Needed for emergency response and air-traffic coordination.  1-855-683-4749 ★
4. Fraud prevention: Eliminates unauthorized resale of promotional fares.

If your travel plans change, United offers flexible options — you can often cancel and receive a flight credit for future travel. For full clarity, call ★ 1-855-683-4749 ★ and our representatives will walk you through the safest route.
